taking those remarks so peacefully. Some of them were mean, and I appreciate you accepting them in the spirit of fun which prompted them. You know, engineers are pretty nice people.

CANDIDATES GREET VOTERS THIS WEEK

Announcements Made To Residents of Glades

H. T. HOLLOWAY

Captain H. T. Holloway of Boynton visited Everglades communities this week when he definitely announced his candidacy for sheriff of Palm Beach county subject to the forthcoming primary. Mr. Holloway announced his intention of running a campaign and would seek election solely on his merits. He promises, if elected, to give the county a clean, fair and open administration which would not countenance crime in any form, particularly in the community for 17 years and his ever struggling hard to help make Pahokee what it is.

O. B. MCCLURE

In the list of political announcements this week is one of O. B. McClure, who is making the race for a place on the Pahokee town council. The Legion posts and the communities of the territory are to be congratulated on the fine spirit of united effort put forth in the annual exposition, a spirit that points to greater accomplishments in the Everglades through the years to come.

a gentleman and his wife wanted to know when the next election was. We told them, that they had gone right through, Indians on their way from Okeechobee City, and they were very much astonished, not having seen either town or Indians.

J. R. DUGGAN

The most interesting thing I saw in Clewiston yesterday was the plaster-of-paris model of hurricane gale, being exhibited by Mr. Hoover and Major Collins, and a pretty job they were making of it. The sea is perfect, one-eighth inch to the foot, and it is to be exhibited at the fair. Major said to give a pair of chisellers, with the added remark that he might as well say it first before I got around his name.

E. M. BAYNES

E. M. Baynes, West Palm Beach attorney, has announced his candidacy for the legislature from the 1st district in a communication to this paper. He is a native Georgian, having received his schooling in that state and coming to Florida in 1925. Since Mr. Baynes has professed law in West Palm Beach and is a member of the county and state bar associations as well as a Florida bar association.

youths of today. Other questions favored by him include workmen's compensation, old age pensions, economical administration of government affairs and a new deal for the agricultural interests.

FRANK H. PACKWOOD

Frank H. Packwood, closely identified with law enforcement in Palm Beach county since 1925, has announced his candidacy for sheriff subject to the democratic primary, June 5.

He called attention of the voters to his qualifications which he has been building upon for many years.

"I have served many years in this line of work," Mr. Packwood said. "For a number of years I was sheriff of the late Sheriff A. J. Lewis of Jacksonville county at Marianna. In 1925 I accepted the office of deputy under the late R. C. Baker."

L. C. CALLOWAY

L. C. Calloway, member of the Palm Beach County Board of Public Instruction, has announced as a candidate for reelection subject to the June primary.

He has been a resident of West Palm Beach since 1920, has been active in the community for 17 years and his ever struggling hard to help make Pahokee what it is.

ALREADY BEING ADDED BY FLORIDA'S EXHIBIT

GAINESVILLE, Fla. April 5—

"That the state of Florida created by the state's magnificent exhibit at Chicago last summer also has resulted in a greater knowledge of Florida products, is the contention of Dr. Wilmon Newell, dean of the Florida College of Agriculture. 'Not only has the great influx of tourists increased consumption of Florida grown fruits and vegetables, at home, but the publicity given those things which the state produces by means of the Florida exhibit at a Century of Progress, last year, has brought about a new interest in Florida products,' Dr. Newell continued. 'Tourists who came to Florida this winter were first attracted by the assurance that fresh fruits and vegetables would be plentiful, which they were given through the state's exhibit in Chicago. With the population practically doubled for a considerable period, local demand for produce has been materially increased, Dr. Newell asserted."

World's Fair visitors who have not yet made trips to Florida unquestionably have been buying more liberally of the state's grove and truck farm products in consequence of the information conveyed there that they were supplied while in Chicago," Dr. Newell said further. "When normal economic conditions have returned these friendly folks will take even greater quantities."

Cooperation of the Agricultural Extension Service and other farm service agencies in the College of Agriculture again will be extended in the effort to give Florida an even more representative showing at the 1934 Century of Progress, according to Dr. Newell.
